PUBLIC COMMENT

Dave Carrig, 645 Sky View Place, Madison. Mr. Carrig spoke about co-ops. He is concerned about affordable housing. Co-ops seem to be a responsible way to provide affordable housing and group people together. The five person limit on co-ops makes them financially infeasible. He asked if the number can be changed.

David Sparer, 16 N. Carroll St., Suite 500, Madison, representing Madison Community Co-op. Mr. Sparer said he is available to answer questions about the proposal recommended by the Housing Committee regarding co-ops. He said staff told him recently that they are neither in favor nor against the proposals. He said it is up to the Plan Commission. He said it is a policy decision. He also said the current draft of the zoning code hurts co-ops more than existing code. He said the current draft does not allow co-ops in the R5 (its equivalent in the draft code) district as a use permitted by right. Same as a co-op with up to 5 persons in R3. Mr. Sundquist asked if staff memo is an accurate portrayal of Mr. Sparer's proposal. Mr. Sparer said yes, it is 98% accurate. Mr. Sundquist asked about the table on page 25 of the staff Memo 1. He noted that some districts have two permitted uses and a conditional use for others in the same district. This could be taken up in Memo 2.
